Mike Compton /David Long Workshop and Performance a Huge Success

The Mike Compton and David Long workshop and performance was a great success for the CTBA, the performers and the audience. The workshop took place at Artz Ribhouse and focused on the mandolin style of the late great Bill Monroe. The performance at the Cactus Cafe was an outstanding example of musicianship and creative artistry. These two performers could fill the room with their two mandolins and voices, as though a whole band were playing. They were also joined by the CTBA's own Sarah Jarosz for a couple of tunes. Sarah showed these mandolin greats that we have greatness right here in Central Texas.

Mike and David both said they really enjoyed Austin and look forward to coming back, if you missed this show, you won't want to miss the next!

In related news, Sarah Jarosz gave an outstanding performance of her own with her mother, Mary, at the Austin Friends of Traditional Music Mid-Winter Festival the day before the Compton-Long show. It was a busy weekend for Sarah! She'd better watch out or she's going to melt the fretboard on her Collings mandolin.

Willa Beach Porter
June 10, 1951 – January 29, 2005
by Trish Taylor

If you knew Willa Porter, it was because you saw her playing in a jam session or making music with her fiddle in her own little world. Bluegrass was her passion! She was an incredible fiddler and an even more incredible person. She had a heart of gold and touched everyone around her.

I met her when she moved to Austin. I can't even remember the year 'cause it seems like a lifetime ago. We hit it off instantly, sharing the love of Bluegrass as well as the fact that we both lived in upstate New York for a period of time, knew some of the same bluegrassers there and could laugh together when we shared our "ten foot tall snowbank stories".

She was interested in putting a group together and playing every chance she got. My husband, Kevin Willette, and I joined her with Mick DelGreco and were known for a very short time as the Wayfarers... until she got a call from well-known mandolinist Butch Baldassari, telling her that he already had a band by that name. We laughed about that but she was tickled that "Butch called her". SO, we became the "Wanderers". We played at private parties, the Georgetown Palace Theatre, bluegrass festivals as well as Artz Rib House, which was our "hang out" for a long time on Sunday afternoons at the Central Texas Bluegrass Association's Jam Sessions.

She had a way about her when she was on stage. Cracking corny jokes and directing the flow of the show was her forte. She was in her element and we enjoyed watching her shine. Her talents were not only with some of the sweetest fiddle playing you've ever heard, but she also wrote songs and touched the world with her beautiful spirit. She will be missed by many. The lucky ones who knew her well, loved her so very much and there will be a definite void in this world without her.

CTBA Announces 2005 Willa Porter Music Scholarship

The 2005 Music Scholarship will be named the 2005 Willa Porter Music Scholarship in honor of the life of one of our dear friends, Ms. Willa Porter.

The CTBA is dedicated to furthering the enjoyment of bluegrass music through teaching, sharing and playing. Incorporated in 1978 as a Texas non-profit, tax-exempt corporation, the Association welcomes all bluegrass friends, fans, and pickers to become active members.

This CTBA scholarship will cover tuition and on-site room and board (double occupancy) to allow a needy aspiring bluegrass musician to attend Camp Bluegrass, a one-week picking camp for bluegrass musicians. Camp Bluegrass is noted for quality teaching and small classes in state of the art facilities. The faculty includes some of the best instructors anywhere.

Applicants must be 12 or over. However, per Camp Bluegrass guidelines, those under 16 can attend only if a parent takes the same class.

The application form and further details will be available in next months issue of the CTBA Bulletin.

Old Settler's Youth Talent Competition

The Old Settler's Youth Talent Competition, to be held at the festival, Saturday April 23, 2005, tries to encourage a new generation of Americana roots musicians by offering performance opportunities and exposure at the festival. Musicians 18 years old and younger, including bands, vocal groups, and solo acts are eligible. Contestants perform two songs (or 10 minutes) that should be in the Americana roots music tradition -- bluegrass, country, blues, gospel or traditional. Only acoustic instruments are permitted -- no amplifiers or electronics. In the past, the competition was from 11:00 AM to 2 PM, but that could change, so check the OSMF website for updates (www.oldsettlersmusicfest.org/index/talentcompetition). It will held on the Discovery Stage.

There is no contestant fee, but each participant must be accompanied by a paying adult. See the aforementioned web page for entry details. All entry emails must be dated no later than April 8, 2005.

First Place: 45-minute showcase spot on the following year's festival, 30-minute show on the Threadgill's Bluebonnet Stage Saturday evening, $200 gift certificate, professional feedback on contest performance and special mention from the Hill Country stage. Second Place: $100 gift certificate, professional feedback on contest performance and special mention from the Hill Country Stage. Third Place: $50 gift certificate, professional feedback on contest performance and special mention from the Hill Country Stage. Each contestant receives an Old Settler's Music Festival Youth Competition certificate of appreciation.

Musically, Robert Norris, YTC coordinator.

Jimmy Martin Hospitalized

Here are a few updates regarding Jimmy Martin, as many of you know, Jimmy is not doing well due to bladder cancer. Send your prayers out for him. He's in a tough spot.

Jimmy is one of the first generation Bluegrass Greats who began his career alongside Bill Monroe in the early fifties. His high pitched lead vocals pushed Bills tenor into the sky, creating what is today termed the "High Lonesome Sound".

Dad would want you to know that he is in the hospital right now. His condition is very serious. He loves his friends and fans so much, and, as he always says, he will never forget you. Please keep him in your prayers, and pass the word along that he is very sick right now. We will try to send updates as we can. Thank you for your prayers, messages, and support.
Sincerely,
Ray Martin,

*Hi to all BG fans,
I've had quite a number of folks e-mailing and calling me asking if I know how Jimmy Martin is doing, and here's what I received a while ago. I just received this a while ago.
Jimmy was told he has 2 to 4 weeks to live. They are going to keep him in the hospital for a couple of days until they can get Hospice set up for him at home.
